

Members of the Child Welfare League of America convening in Washington for a White House Conference to promote the well-being of children included CHS of NJ's president and CEO Donna Pressma (second from left) and its board chair, Rosalind Hunt Doctor, Ph.D., (back row, center). They were among the delegates who met with New Jersey Senator Frank Lautenberg (front row, second from right) to thank him for supporting legislation that provides kinship services for grandparents and others raising a relative's children. Lautenberg has been a strong proponent of programs that help keep families intact.
