IN THESE CHANGING TIMES, A MESSAGE FROM THE CHILDREN’S HOME SOCIETY OF NEW JERSEY’S CEO & BOARD CHAIR

We are Passionate about Our Mission:

_Saving Children’s Lives and Building Healthy Families since 1894_

Driven by Our Values:

♥ Every child has a right to be loved, protected and respected in our inclusive country no matter his or her race, religion, country of origin, gender, sexual identity, abilities or disabilities
♥ Every child has a right to be all that he or she can be with permanent caring parents
♥ Parents have a right to be supported as their child’s first and best teacher
♥ We celebrate one of our country’s greatest strengths and assets -- diversity through our immigrant and native roots. We celebrate our diversity of faiths, ethnicities and religions.

WE NEVER LOSE HOPE!

In 2015, our statewide not-for-profit agency’s 350 staff, board, auxiliary, and 900 volunteers touched the lives of 59,936 infants, children, youth and their families.

For All Our Children to Thrive, We Provide Services That Are Evaluated:

♥ Maternal/Child Health Programs to ensure mothers access prenatal care, have full-term healthy pregnancies and have the knowledge they need to care for themselves and their babies ♥ Quality birth to age five Education with comprehensive family support services, so that every child enters kindergarten equally ready to learn ♥ Parenting Education on child development and Supportive Services for parents from the time of their pregnancy through their child’s high school attendance ♥ Access to Job Skills Training for parents and youth that prepare them for real jobs for a global economy, an information age economy, a science and engineering-focused economy, and a changing earth
♥ Civic Education from early childhood through college ♥ Science, Technology, Engineering, Art and Mathematics (STEAM) activities and education for all children with ongoing exposure from early childhood through college ♥ School Based Youth Development Services that teach how to eliminate bullying and resolve differences peacefully, perseverance when one fails, working successfully in teams, and effective peer leadership and mentoring

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

♥ Donate money/resources (clothes, toys, non-perishable food) to CHSofNJ!
♥ Volunteer at CHSofNJ!
♥ Advocate with CHSofNJ for priority, concrete needs for at-risk children and families!

To do this, visit our website for more information at www.chsofnj.org
CHSOFNJ VOLUNTEERS AND SUPPORTERS

Together, we served 59,936 at-risk infants, children, youth and families in 2015-2016.

OUR PHENOMENAL COMMUNITY PARTNERS ARE OUR 900 ACTIVE VOLUNTEERS FROM ACROSS NEW JERSEY AND EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

The critical work of volunteers helps The Children’s Home Society of New Jersey win victories for our children, parents, grandparents and foster parents every day. There are many ways volunteers support CHSoF NJ – some volunteer once a year, some several times a year, some each week or each month. Our children and youth know they care – know that they do this hard work voluntarily with demonstrated caring, passion and dedication.

CHSoF NJ Volunteers Include:

♥ The CHSoF NJ Auxiliary of 40 dedicated fundraisers, our Gala Committee members and TEDI Event Committee members
♥ Corporate volunteer groups from the world of business with hundreds of volunteers
♥ Teen volunteer groups who have undertaken food or clothing drives
♥ Elementary school children who have donated their birthday gifts
♥ Senior citizen groups from churches and other houses of worship who undertake drives to fill Baby Bottles with coins and dollars for HOPE for babies
♥ Volunteer groups who have thrown their own fundraising events and then donated the proceeds to help our vulnerable children, youth and parents
♥ Mentors for school-age children including volunteers who teach children STEAM skills ♥ Supporters who leave bequests or donate their car or donate holiday gifts for our children.

Volunteers Save Children’s Lives and Build Healthy Families:

♥ A group of volunteers from a corporate partner identified a very talented, bright middle school student who they met while teaching STEAM activities in CHSoF NJ’s after-school program. They offered him a summer internship with the corporation. Following the internship, the company has very generously offered to pay for private high school and full tuition toward his college degree!

Donations are Critical to Our Work:

♥ Every donation – large or small – adds up to funding more direct services that we otherwise could not offer and therefore more children’s lives can be saved.
♥ Donations have allowed us to provide counseling for children who are traumatized by abuse, but could not receive counseling otherwise.
♥ Donations allow us to provide nurturing foster care placements to keep infants, toddlers and children who are siblings together until we find loving, permanent adoptive parents.

TOGETHER WE SAVE ONE CHILD AT A TIME!

A BETTER & BRIGHTER FUTURE TOGETHER

Donate Volunteer Advocate
At only 5 years old, Shantel had already endured terrible abuse at the hands of adults who had promised to care for her and her older sister, Imani. Her mother had a history of drug abuse dating back to before the girls were born, and struggled to overcome temptation every single day. She and the girls’ father had never been in a relationship, but they had been in and out of each other’s lives for years. They met when they were very young, and their interactions eventually led to the births of Imani and Shantel.

When Shantel was 3, her mother met a new man, a known drug dealer in the community. Shantel’s Aunt Daysia pleaded with her sister not to allow her new boyfriend near the girls. Sadly, Shantel’s mother had slipped back into her old habits and her judgment was clouded by narcotics and alcohol; she moved him into their apartment after only one month of dating.

Months passed, and the girls’ home life worsened. Their mother was using heroin and she had quickly escalated from slapping her children to now beating them with a leather belt. The drug-fueled haze she lived in left her unable to protect her daughters, and she let her boyfriend sexually abuse them. When other little girls were playing dress-up and putting on dance recitals in their living rooms, Shantel and her sister Imani were hiding in the back of their closet from the man they’d only ever had invited into their lives.

This abuse continued for over a year, until Shantel entered kindergarten. There, her teacher noticed deep blue and purple bruises on Shantel’s legs and lower back. She immediately reported the abuse to the state, sparking an investigation by the Division of Child Protection & Permanency (DCPP). The girls were removed from the home and placed in the care of their loving Aunt Daysia.

Shantel and Imani’s mother’s ongoing battle with addiction continued to be an issue, and eventually landed the girls’ mother in prison for drug related charges and robbery. Efforts to reconnect the girls with their biological father were unsuccessful. He visited his daughters shortly after they were removed from their mother’s home, but he felt Aunt Daysia was much better equipped to care for Shantel and Imani. He chose to terminate his parental rights so that Daysia could adopt her nieces for whom she has built a loving safe family.

At the time the girls were removed from her mother, Shantel began acting out in school, disrupting lessons and hitting other children. DCPP referred Shantel and her sister to our counseling program, where a caring CHSoFNJ social worker could help them overcome the trauma of their past physical and sexual abuse and neglect. Our social worker introduced the entire family to our Family Success Center (FSC), where Daysia eagerly attended parenting education programs to learn how to best care for the girls and learned the different resources available to her and her family. Our interactive ‘Fun with Books & Music’ program encouraged Daysia to read to the girls and engaged the entire family in activities that led to meaningful conversations and interactions.

Our attentive staff noticed that drawing and coloring seemed to soothe Shantel, so art therapy was integrated into her counseling sessions and encouraged at home and school. She learned to channel her emotions into productive behaviors, which has helped her begin to make friends and find peace.

It has been 4 years since Shantel and her sister were removed from their mother’s home, and both little girls are thriving! Under the care of their loving Aunt Daysia, the girls have found a permanent, happy family. Their counseling services with CHSoFNJ have ended for now, but the family is still very active in our FSC. With over 50 unique programs throughout New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania and our all-inclusive approach, our staff is able to provide critical CHSoFNJ services and linkages to other community resources that enhance every area of our children and families’ lives. We are so grateful to have the ability to provide such comprehensive services, because success stories like Shantel’s are proof that we truly are saving children’s lives and building healthy families.
The operating budget of The Children’s Home Society of New Jersey relies on funding from federal, state, and county government grants and private contributions, with a major portion of the budget coming from a collaborative partnership with several New Jersey state agencies. Although the funds we receive from these government grants are critical, unrestricted private dollars acquired through additional fundraising efforts are necessary to supplement most grants in order to provide the level of quality and the intensity of social services that are imperative to achieve outcomes that save children’s lives and build healthy families.
